Welcome to the Lloyd's Register List of Type Approval.

Lloyd's Register (LR) is one of the world's foremost ship classification societies.

We are a leading independent technical inspection, certification and advisory organisation, operating worldwide in the marine, offshore and industrial sectors.

We aim to provide risk management solutions to enhance our clients' quality, safety, environmental and business performance.

We are pleased to inform you that the Type Approval Certificate of the subject product is granted and will be included in the appropriate part of the List of Lloyd's Register Type Approved Products. These lists appear, in English, on the Lloyd's Register web site which is updated regularly (<http://www.cdlive.lr.org/information/>).

Please find enclosed herewith a Type Approval Certificate, associated Marine Design Appraisal Documents, a copy of List Entry for presentation to your company and PQA report.

Please be noted that this Type Approval is conditional upon you complying with the requirements of the LR Type Approval procedure, it should also be noted that any change in the conditions under which approval was given that affect the validity of the Certificate must be notified to Lloyd's Register without delay.

We believe that your relationship with LR will prove a valuable promotion resource for your company and we look forward to a long and mutually beneficial partnership in the future.

Yours truly,

C. S. Park
Senior Surveyor
